

Orc appoints Jeremie Bacon to lead Americas operations

For immediate release: Chicago, Wednesday May 22, 2013 – Orc, a leading provider of technology and services for the global financial industry, today announced Jeremie Bacon as the new regional President of Orc Americas. He succeeds Marty Leamy and will be based in Orc's Chicago office.

Bacon is a seasoned financial services and B2B software executive, experienced in strategic organization building, sales and marketing as well as professional services. Prior to joining Orc, Bacon co-founded Backstop Solutions Group, a Chicago based firm that provides investor relations and hedge fund portfolio management software. Bacon also spent time at Goldman Sachs, where he worked in the institutional equity sales division.

“The Americas region is a critical component in Orc’s growth strategy and with Jeremie at the helm, we are confident that the company will continue to meet the changing and demanding needs of the derivatives industry,” said Torben Munch, CEO, Orc Group. “Jeremie’s extensive background and knowledge will enhance Orc’s offering and solidify our standing as a leading provider of technology and services for the global financial industry.”

“I was impressed by the quality of people at Orc Group and the thorough market knowledge Orc employees maintain,” said Jeremie Bacon, President, Orc Americas. “I look forward to leading the Americas region in this new chapter of Orc’s long-standing and successful history.”
