Press release

Luca Zuccoli appointed Chief Data & Analytics Officer of Intrum

Luca Zuccoli, new Chief Data & Analytics Officer at Intrum, has an extensive background within data and advanced analytics from similar roles at EasyJet and Experian as well as advisory roles at management consulting companies including Oliver Wyman.

“The role as Chief Data & Analytics Officer is new at Intrum and the establishment of the role is a strategic step within our transformation program. The application of artificial intelligence and machine learning into our core business processes enhances our client value proposition and our customer experience, and at the same time it supports our business growth and return objectives. Luca Zuccoli brings very relevant knowledge from leading innovation at highly data driven companies and he has broad experience from digital strategies and business transformations. I am very pleased to welcome Luca to our team, where he will play an important role on our journey towards ONE Intrum”, says Anders Engdahl, President and CEO of Intrum.

Luca Zuccoli will report directly to Anders Engdahl and be a member of Intrum’s Group Management Team. He joins Intrum early June 2021.
