

Press release

15.07.2020

Karin Lepasoon leaves Vattenfall

Senior Vice President and Head of Group Communications at Vattenfall, Karin Lepasoon, has decided to leave Vattenfall and will commence a position at SEB.

Karin joined Vattenfall in 2016 and has been in the lead of defining and engaging Vattenfall's employees and customers in the new strategic positioning of the Vattenfall brand.

- Karin Lepasoon has been instrumental in the transition of Vattenfall and a key promoter of our goal to make fossil free living possible within a generation. She has combined this with excellent leadership skills displayed in making our communications organisation an integral part of driving Vattenfall's strategy and business agenda. I have truly enjoyed working with Karin and wish her all the best in her coming position, says Magnus Hall, President and CEO, Vattenfall.
- It has been such a pleasure working at Vattenfall. I have learnt a lot from all my fantastic colleagues who I will miss very much. With great trust, interest and respect I will closely follow Vattenfall's continued progress on its important journey towards fossil free living, says Karin Lepasoon.

Karin Lepasoon will leave Vattenfall at the latest in October 2020. A recruitment process for a successor will start immediately.

For further information, please contact:

Vattenfall's Press Office, telephone: +46 (0)8 739 50 10, email: press@vattenfall.com

Vattenfall is a leading European energy company, which for more than 100 years has electrified industries, supplied energy to people's homes and modernised our way of living through innovation and cooperation. We now want to make fossil-free living possible within one generation. That's why we are driving the transition to a sustainable energy system through initiatives in renewable production and climate smart energy solutions for our customers. We employ approximately 20,000 people and have operations mainly in Sweden, Germany, the Netherlands, Denmark and the UK. Vattenfall is owned by the Swedish state. For more information: group.vattenfall.com