

Press release

04.19.2021

Vattenfall's CEO Anna Borg to attend White House Leaders summit on Climate

Vattenfall's President and CEO, Anna Borg, has been invited by U.S. President Biden to speak at the White House Leaders Summit on Climate.

Anna will discuss how Vattenfall is powering innovation to combat climate change. This is the core of our business strategy to enable fossil-fuel free living within one generation.

On Friday 23 April, Anna will participate in the session "The innovation agenda to build tomorrow's clean industries". She will explain how Vattenfall, together with partners and customers across Europe, is working to phase out fossil fuels. In particular she will highlight how electrification will change industrial sectors, such as through the world's first fossil free steel project, 'HYBRIT', which is a partnership between SSAB, LKAB and Vattenfall.

Date and Time: Friday April 23rd CET 15:00-16:00.

For further information, please contact:

Natalie Sial, director Media Relations Sweden, +46 70-191 93 61, natalie.sial@vattenfall.com

Vattenfall's Press Office, +46 8-739 50 10, press@vattenfall.com

Vattenfall is a leading European energy company, which for more than 100 years has electrified industries, supplied energy to people's homes and modernised our way of living through innovation and cooperation. We now want to make fossil-free living possible within one generation. That's why we are driving the transition to a sustainable energy system through initiatives in renewable production and climate smart energy solutions for our customers. We employ approximately 20,000 people and have operations mainly in Sweden, Germany, the Netherlands, Denmark and the UK. Vattenfall is owned by the Swedish state. For more information: <https://group.vattenfall.com/>