New York City (September 2, 2014) – NYC & Company, New York City's official marketing, tourism and partnership organization, today announced Off-Broadway Week will return this fall September 29–October 12. During the biannual promotion, 50 Off-Broadway productions will offer two-for-one tickets to theatergoers. Tickets will go on sale starting September 15 and will be available for purchase at nycgo.com/offbroadwayweek.

"Off-Broadway Week provides New Yorkers and visitors the opportunity to experience the intimacy of Off-Broadway theaters and the wide range of theatrical genres—from comedies and dramas to musicals and family-friendly productions—at a terrific value," said Fred Dixon, president and CEO of NYC & Company. "We are excited to partner again with The Off-Broadway League to present Off-Broadway Week and to provide even more incentive for everyone to see some of the best performances the theater capital of the world has to offer."

"The Off-Broadway League's history of partnering with NYC & Company has always been a success for our audiences," said Adam Hess, President of The Off-Broadway League. "With such a variety of quality theatrical productions, patrons can introduce a family member to their favorite long-running show or take a friend to see the next big hit before it is too late to get a ticket. Off-Broadway Week makes theatergoing accessible and affordable."
