

OrganoClick AB (publ) publish Interim Report for the first quarter 2016

"We will finally after 6 year's of collaboration with Nyarp, the biggest manufacturer of burial coffins in the Nordics, launch an eco-coffin produced with our biocomposite and our new fiber moulding technology. This has been a long project with several challenges that has been solved along the way. The project has included both advanced material development and development and construction of completely new production technology. Now, it is finally done and the 22nd of April a preview of the coffin took place at the Swedish funeral homes annual meeting."
