

183/17 - AktieTorget to migrate to the Elastica trading platform

AktieTorget has decided it will be moving its trading onto the Nordic Growth Market (NGM) Elastica trading platform. The new platform is scheduled to be live on November 2017.

Elastica is a flexible, highly scalable trading platform targeting listing and trading of growth companies.

- Flexibility has become an important factor for market participants, investors and listed companies, and the implementation of Elastica will strengthen the competitive position of AktieTorget. The system will make it easier for AktieTorget to implement changes to respond to market demands but also to extend our offering towards new and existing companies, says Mr. Peter Gönczi CEO of AktieTorget.

- The Elastica trading platform is currently used by Nordic Growth Market. Most of the Nordic banks and brokers are already connected to the platform. This makes us confident that the Elastica is the right choice for AktieTorget and it provides a seamless migration for member firms, says Gönczi.

- We are delighted that AktieTorget has chosen Elastica for its trading platform. The Elastica platform can evolve as AktieTorget develops its business further, says Mr. Tommy Fransson, Deputy CEO of NGM.

The migration process is communicated through NGM Forum – Elastica Participant (a.k.a. ngm-dev). If you require access to this forum please contact:
