

Clavister Elected as Member of the European Cybersecurity Organisation (ECSO)

Örnsköldsvik, Sweden, 16 September 2020. Clavister, a leader in high performance cybersecurity solutions, declares that it has been elected as member of the European Cybersecurity Organisation (ECSO).

ECSO, which is a European Public-Private Partnership, was started in 2016 to develop a competitive European cybersecurity ecosystem, to support the protection of the European Digital Single Market with trusted cybersecurity solutions, and to contribute to the advancement of the European digital autonomy. The ECSO membership—250 members strong with thousands of stakeholder groups taking advice and initiatives—is seeing a growing relevance as global cybersecurity threats endanger business continuity. The ECSO and Clavister believe that a European alternative will create a better, safer cybersecurity landscape for all.

“Clavister’s contribution and collaboration are essential to further improve the role of ECSO and will reinforce it as the place to design, develop and launch cybersecurity initiatives to support the European digital economy. We want to thank you for the confidence you have shown in choosing to join ECSO,” states Luigi Rebuffi, PhD, Secretary General European Cyber Security Organisation (ECSO) of Clavister’s new membership.

“We are delighted to join the ECSO and fully support its mission to create better European cybersecurity. We expect this to be a fruitful collaboration for years to come,” concludes Przemek Sienkiewicz, Chief Strategy Officer at Clavister.
