

Arctic Paper chooses Advenica for risk and vulnerability analysis of information security

Advenica, the Swedish provider of cybersecurity, has won an order from the Arctic Paper Group. With the task of making a risk and vulnerability analysis, the first step is taken into a whole new industry within the strategically important Enterprise Solutions business area.

A new offer

Arctic Paper has chosen Advenica after a thorough evaluation of international suppliers' capacity and offer. Although revenue is limited, the order is a step in the right direction, according to Advenica's strategic focus on Enterprise Solutions - products for authorities and businesses where information security is business critical. The mission involves identifying possible threats, vulnerabilities and risks, as well as analyzing their consequences in order to increase the ability to handle them. The analysis report will be the foundation for actions that eliminate the risk of data breach. The assignment will begin during the third quarter of 2017.

This is a significant order for Advenica. Arctic Paper is a new customer and, above all, a customer in an entirely new industry. The order confirms that our offer is right and our knowledge within the Top Secret / Secret segment is a competitive advantage. I cannot emphasize enough the importance of preventive work on information security.

Rune Bengtsson,
VP Sales, Enterprise Solutions, Advenica AB

Arctic Paper has understood the need to strengthen our organization by including information security issues at the highest management level. We want to take a new hold of this challenge and initiate a cooperation with Advenica in this area.

Cezary Dubicki,
Group IT and Business Systems, Arctic Paper
