

The Swedish Defence Materiel Administration orders crypto products worth 27 MSEK

The Swedish Defence Materiel Administration (FMV) has placed an order for additional devices of Advenica's network encryptor SecuriVPN, with estimated delivery in December 2017.

SecuriVPN for nations information security

Advenica's SecuriVPN system is used to protect the highest level of sensitive information within the Swedish Armed Forces, and is also approved for encrypted communication of the highest level of sensitive information within the EU.

The SecuriVPN products feature high reliability, quantum safe technology, and easy-to-use administration and management.

Protecting information from advanced cyber-attacks has become an increasing challenge that organisations today must face. We are proud to contribute to Sweden's cyber defense with products such as SecuriVPN which is developed to protect organisations' most valuable information.
