

Advenica grows its commitment to The Swedish Transport Administration (Trafikverket) with a three year agreement for crypto-solutions

Advenica, a Swedish supplier of cybersecurity solutions, has won a framework agreement for a period of three years for crypto-solutions. Trafikverket also placed an initial order for SecuriConnect, the crypto-solution for Restricted level. The order is an important breakthrough for Advenica's unique crypto-solution within the business area Enterprise Solutions and the industry Critical Infrastructure.

Insider threat and a changed threat landscape from very powerful players make the Advenica solutions for information exchange, based on strong crypto via Virtual Private Network (VPN), into an excellent solution to mitigate those threats. The patented technology, Three Domain Separation, makes it impossible for administrators to get access to user information. Three Domain Separation in combination with our crypto-technology, developed in cooperation with defense customers, the level of information security is very high.

Trafikverket's order includes the SecuriConnect crypto-solution to a value of 180 000 SEK. The order will be delivered in September 2017.

That Trafikverket chooses our VPN-technology, as one of the first customer outside the Defence industry, is fantastic. Advanced but also user friendliness is the future and that is exactly what we provide.

Rune Bengtsson,
VP Sales Enterprise, Advenica AB
