

Einar Lindquist leaves as CEO of Advenica

Einar Lindquist was appointed CEO of Advenica in November 2015.

“Einar Lindquist has during his years as CEO initiated a strategically important and extensive transformation of Advenica through the start-up of the new business area Enterprise Solutions and increased international presence by establishing subsidiaries in Finland and Austria. Under his leadership, the number of customers has increased significantly and the product and service offering has been broadened. However, the Board believes that there is now a need for a change in leadership, as Advenica needs to develop to the next level and, among other things, execute a more coordinated and aggressive sales effort. On behalf of the Board, we thank Einar for his contributions to the company”, says Anna Söderblom, Chairman of the Board of Directors.

Einar Lindquist leaves the position as CEO immediately but will be available to Advenica during the termination period.

The search for a new CEO will be initiated immediately. Until a new CEO has been appointed, Marie Bengtsson, current CFO of Advenica, will be acting CEO.
