

FMV places new order, worth MSEK 35, on Advenica's encryption products

Advenica, the Swedish provider of cybersecurity solutions, has received an order from FMV (The Swedish Defence Materiel Administration) for encryption products. A deal worth approximately MSEK 35 and with delivery on an ongoing basis during 2019 and early 2020.

This is the deal that was mentioned in the press release sent on January 23, 2019.

Advenica is a long-established and well trusted provider of cybersecurity solutions within National Security, both in Sweden and internationally. The encryption products are based on Advenica's patented technology and meet the authorities' requirements for communication of TOP SECRET information. They are also approved for encrypted communication to the highest information security level within the EU.

The order from FMV also includes upgrades for today's solutions and the plan is to deliver on an ongoing basis during 2019 and during the first quarter of 2020.

We work with customers whose operations require high-assurance solutions to safeguard their most valuable information. Advenica's products have futureproof technology, are user-friendly with exceptional reliability and includes high assurance technology. All this combined simplifies and safeguards the security of any nation.
