

Advenica enters into a new agreement, worth MSEK 39, with a Swedish public organisation

Advenica, the Swedish provider of cybersecurity solutions, has entered into a new agreement with a Swedish public organisation regarding technical investigations and product development. The agreement extends over 2021, 2022 and 2023 with ongoing partial deliveries.

Advenica has extensive experience in cybersecurity and offers solutions for cybersecurity that meet the very highest security requirements. The company has now entered into a new agreement regarding technical investigation and product development with a Swedish public organisation.

The agreement is worth MSEK 39 and extends over 2021, 2022 and 2023 with ongoing partial deliveries. For Advenica, the agreement means that the organization may need to grow to live up to the needs.

Cybersecurity now has the highest priority and many organisations set high standards. Through this agreement, Advenica's expertise will be used to develop future-proof high-assurance technology to protect a Swedish public organisation. Due to this agreement, Advenica will further strengthen the organisation with competent employees who want to contribute to increasing cybersecurity in our society.
