

Advenica doubles its premises in Malmö for continued expansion

Advenica continues its growth journey and is now expanding its premises within its existing property in Malmö. Through this expansion, the company will nearly double its office space.

In recent years, both revenue and workforce have steadily increased, and the company has now outgrown its current premises on Roskildevägen in Malmö. A new agreement with the property owner to expand from two to four floors creates better conditions for continued development, more employees, and future expansion. The enlargement is an important step in Advenica's long-term strategy and strengthens the company's ability to meet the increasing demand for cybersecurity solutions from defence, authorities, infrastructure and industry.

"We are in a strong growth phase and continue to see significant demand for our solutions and expertise. By expanding our premises, we are creating the right conditions for continued growth and for welcoming more employees. This is an investment in the future and a clear expression of our long-term ambition," says Marie Bengtsson, CEO of Advenica.

Advenica has been a tenant with Brorman Fastigheter for a long time, and the expanded space means that the collaboration between the parties will deepen further.

"We are very pleased that Advenica has chosen to continue its journey with us and to expand within the property. Advenica is an important and valued tenant, and it feels very positive to be part of their continued development. This investment demonstrates long-term commitment and confidence in the future," says Martin Brorman of Brorman Fastigheter.

The new premises will be operational from January 1, 2027.
