

Enviro CEO Thomas Sörensson participates in Sweden-France Business Forum during President Macron's state visit

Enviro's CEO, Thomas Sörensson, will represent Enviro and participate at the business seminar Sweden-France Business Forum: Accelerating Europe's competitiveness, which is scheduled for January 31 in conjunction with the French state visit. The conference focuses on innovation and sustainability and among the participants are H.M. King, French President Emmanuel Macron, government representatives, and over 200 business representatives from Sweden and France.

"One focus area during the conference is how the green transition can be facilitated by innovation and collaborations, and our partnership with Michelin is a shining example of this. The fact that Enviro is invited to such an event highlights the importance and necessity of what we are working to achieve", says Thomas Sörensson, CEO of Enviro.

Scandinavian Enviro Systems contributes to enhanced environmental and economic sustainability using a patented technology for the recovery of valuable raw materials from scrapped and end-of-life products, including tires. The production of new tires using carbon black recovered with Enviro's technology reduces carbon dioxide emissions by up to 93 per cent compared with the use of virgin carbon black. Enviro has its head office in Gothenburg and a plant for the recycling of end-of-life tires in Åsensbruk. The largest owner is the French tire manufacturer Michelin. Enviro was founded in 2001 and is listed on Nasdaq First North Growth Market.
