Star Vault AB Successfully Launches Major Expansion "Sarducca" as a New Continent in Mortal Online 2

MALMÖ, July 2, 2026 - Star Vault AB (publ) ("Star Vault" or the "Company"), the Swedish game developer behind the successful MMORPG Mortal Online 2, announces today that yesterday's official launch of the comprehensive expansion and major initiative "Sarducca" has been highly successful. The launch includes a dedicated North American server, marking a significant step in the Company's growth strategy in the North American market.

Sarducca as a New Continent on the Planet Nave

Following an intensive development period, Star Vault has opened the doors to Sarducca, the largest content update in the Company's history. The continent of Sarducca, rooted in the rich history of the Mortal Online series, has long been a highly anticipated destination among players. By hosting Sarducca on a new, powerful North American server, Star Vault has addressed a significant need for improved latency and playability for the North American market, while simultaneously allowing the global community to explore the new lands on the planet Nave.

A Successful Launch with Technical Optimization

Yesterday's launch proceeded according to plan, and the high load on the new North American server confirms the immense interest in the expansion. The technical investment enables a more seamless experience in one of the most complex environments in the game's history. Feedback from the community regarding the new content - which includes new gameplay mechanics, geographical environments, and expanded opportunities for player-driven economy - has been overwhelmingly positive.

"We are incredibly proud of the team's performance and the immense enthusiasm we are receiving from our players. Launching Sarducca on a dedicated North American server is proof that we listen to our community and take the necessary steps to offer a world-class gaming experience, regardless of where in the world the player is located," says Henrik Nyström, CEO of Star Vault, in a comment.
