Comment from CEO Joachim Samuelsson

"Crunchfish entered the quarter by signing our first commercial Digital Cash agreement with IDFC FIRST Bank in India. As a first implementation they decided to integrate Digital Cash telecom in their Digital Rupee app and it is now awaiting approval from the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) before release. This is a milestone, but the expected scale up has been delayed, at least in the short term, through the launch of UPI Lite X by National Payment Cooperation of India (NPCI). UPI Lite X adds offline payments to UPI and the Indian payment eco-system. A Non-Disclosure Agreement has been entered with NPCI to discuss how Digital Cash offline may complement NPCI products. This is exciting and an indication of Crunchfish Digital Cash unique strengths."

At 09:00 CET/13:30 IST, a live webinar about the report will be hosted on Zoom where Crunchfish CEO Joachim Samuelsson will be interviewed by analyst Filip Stenberg from Västra Hamnen Corporate Finance.
