"Crunchfish announced a turnaround – third time's the charm in the Q1 report. The new go-to-market approach has had an overwhelming reception in the market. Most importantly, India has taken it to heart and the National Payments Corporation of India is implementing the approach into their payment networks. This opens the market to sell Digital Cash wallets to all payment services providers in India. Furthermore, we have during this quarter widened the market to many other opportunities in the rest of the world.", says Joachim Samuelsson, Crunchfish's CEO.
