

Crunchfish to Present: “Offline Payments as a Business Opportunity” at ProHearings Event

Malmö, February 19th, 2026.

Crunchfish will present at the ProHearings investor event tomorrow, February 20th, at 10.50 CET, where CEO Joachim Samuelsson will outline the business case behind Governed Offline Payments.

The presentation, which will be held in Swedish, will focus on:

- Why offline functionality is becoming critical infrastructure
- How offline architecture affects risk, liquidity, and banking economics
- Why offline is not merely a resilience feature, but a structural business opportunity
- How a single system integration can create scalable recurring software revenues
- The global market implications of Crunchfish’s expanded positioning

Earlier this week, Crunchfish announced an expanded strategic positioning of its Governed Offline architecture, highlighting how offline capability can align resilience with funding efficiency and banking economics.

About Crunchfish - crunchfish.com

Crunchfish is a deep fintech company developing governed offline payments technology for payment systems, banks, and payment applications. The company enables offline payments as a Layer-2 solution on top of existing payment systems, allowing transactions to be executed without connectivity while ledger authority and settlement remain unchanged. Through a reservation-based model, resilience is achieved without creating parallel forms of money or unmanaged credit risk. Crunchfish's architecture is patented and enables interoperability across multiple payment systems and markets. The solution strengthens system stability while also supporting economic incentives by ensuring that liquidity backing offline payments remains within the regulated financial system.
