

Crunchfish Publishes Interim Report Q1 2026

Malmö, May 21st, 2026.

Today, Crunchfish publishes the company's interim report for Q1 2026. CEO Joachim Samuelsson comments that this quarter marks the reach of a milestone in the payment systems - the dependency on real-time connectivity is no longer acceptable, and Crunchfish is responding to it.

"The first quarter of 2026 marks an important step in Crunchfish's development of payment systems that no longer depend on continuous system availability. Digital payments are critical infrastructure, yet they still rely on real-time connectivity. That dependency is no longer acceptable. At Crunchfish, we enable payments to work even when the system does not." says Joachim Samuelsson, Crunchfish's CEO.

The report is available as an attached document to this press release as well as through the company's website. Below is a summary of key financial numbers in the report.

About Crunchfish – crunchfish.com

Crunchfish is a deep fintech company developing governed offline payments technology for payment systems, banks, and payment applications. The company enables offline payments as a Layer-2 solution on top of existing payment systems, allowing transactions to be executed without connectivity while ledger authority and settlement remain unchanged. Through a reservation-based model, resilience is achieved without creating parallel forms of money or unmanaged credit risk. Crunchfish's architecture is patented and enables interoperability across multiple payment systems and markets. The solution strengthens system stability while also supporting economic incentives by ensuring that liquidity backing offline payments remains within the regulated financial system.
