“We will with this acquisition get a significant boost at TargetEveryone, both on the technical side and also with management”, says Bjorn Forslund CEO and founder of TargetEveryone. “This is an excellent complement to our own knowledge, and we have for a long period been searching for this competence for being able to meet future expansions.”

“We are happy and thankful to be part of TargetEveryone”, says Michael Irgens, one of the founders of Digimatch. “The potential and the coming growth that are to be expected in the area 1 to 1 Marketing is hard to overestimate, and it is in that segment me and my colleague want to work and have focus.”
