Comintelli launches Intelligence2day® News based on Opoint

Comintelli AB announced that they have partnered with Norwegian based Opoint, the world's leading provider of online news data and technology solutions, to offer solutions for daily news in Intelligence2day®.

As we all struggle with information overload on a daily basis, it's harder to filter and access valuable information. Relevant news is therefore an important foundation for any Market & Competitive Intelligence platform. Intelligence2day® News has been designed to help customers track important news in three ways:

1. News Refinery – Curated collections of most relevant web sources from key industries and important topics.
2. Site Monitor – Crawling custom websites of customers choice
3. News Search – Custom search queries from over 200,000 web sources.

“We are delighted to be able to provide a reliable and seamless news solution within our SaaS platform Intelligence2day®”, says Jesper Martell, CEO of Comintelli. “This solution applies both advanced Artificial Intelligence technology and human curation to detect relevant and accurate news. Inside Intelligence2day®, customers can further refine, analyze and visualize the news to create value added insights for their organizations.”

“Opoint is proud to be the main source of global data and fortify Comintelli's focus on quality and reliability,” says John Anders Tangnes, CSO of Opoint. “For more than 15 years, we have delivered quality content to a significant number of major players in the international market including business- and media intelligence companies. We are happy that Comintelli chose us as a partner for their new venture and look forward to this collaboration.”
