Adam Lundin, Chair of Lundin Mining’ Board of Directors commented “On behalf of the Board, we are pleased to welcome Michael Steinmann to the Board of Directors of Lundin Mining. Mr. Steinmann’s extensive industry experience, strategic insight, and proven leadership will be a valuable addition as we continue to advance our long-term growth strategy. With a strong portfolio of high-quality assets and a clear path toward significant growth in copper, gold and silver production, we believe Michael’s perspective will further strengthen the Board as we position the Company for the next decade of value creation.”

Mr. Steinmann is the President and CEO, and director, of Pan American Silver Corp. since 2016. Mr. Steinmann has over 30 years of experience in the base and precious metals industry, including throughout South America in mine operations and project development, having participated in numerous mine construction projects from exploration and feasibility studies through start-up and into continuous operation.

He is also experienced in corporate M&A and has been involved in many capital market transactions, including placements of equity and debt, as well as numerous other exploration and business development initiatives. Mr. Steinmann is a current board member of the Pacific Salmon Foundation, a current board member and member of the audit committee of the World Gold Council, and a current board member and past President of the Silver Institute, a non-profit international industry association that aims to increase public understanding of the many uses and values of silver. He also served as a director of Lumina Gold Corp. until its acquisition by CMOC Group in 2025.

Michael Steinmann holds a Ph.D. in Natural Science (Geology) from the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETHZ), a M.Sc. in Geology from the University of Zurich, and a Degree in Corporate Finance from Escuela Superior de Administración y Negocios, Lima.

About Lundin Mining

Lundin Mining is a Canadian mining company headquartered in Vancouver, Canada with three operating mines in Brazil and Chile. We produce metals that underpin global development, supporting infrastructure, electrification, technological innovation, and economic resilience. Our strategic vision is to become a top ten global copper producer. To get there, we are executing a clear growth strategy, which includes advancing one of the world’s largest copper, gold, and silver projects in the Vicuña District on the border of Argentina and Chile, where we hold a 50% interest. We also hold a 31% interest in the Los Helados project, located adjacent to our operating Caserones mine, providing longer term growth optionality. Lundin Mining has a proven track record of value creation through resource growth, operational excellence, and responsible development. The Company’s shares trade on the Toronto Stock Exchange (LUN) and Nasdaq Stockholm (LUMI). Learn more at www.lundinmining.com.
