

Genexis launches FiberTwist PX2117: bringing future Multi-Gig speeds to PtP connections

Genexis, the European leader of innovative broadband solutions for the home, proudly introduces the FiberTwist PX2117, a future-ready product designed to maximize flexibility and performance for Point-to-Point (PtP) fiber networks.

With the FiberTwist PX2117, service providers can prepare existing 1G PtP connections for a seamless upgrade to 10G PtP without replacing the Network Terminal (NT) in the customer's home. By simply swapping the SFP module in the Point of Presence (PoP) for a 10G variant, end-users can enjoy speeds beyond 1G without additional hardware investments or additional installations.

Key Advantages

- Future-proof your network: Build a network that supports tomorrow's speed demands without replacing existing NTs.
- Cost-efficient scalability: Enable faster internet speeds with minimal operational effort.
- Seamless upgrade: No need to replace the FiberTwist at the customer premises.

"The PX2117 is all about operators' flexibility and peace of mind. It allows them to plan for future bandwidth demands without costly or time-consuming replacements in the home. This approach ensures a smooth transition to higher speeds while maintaining the simplicity and reliability that FiberTwist is known for," says Reinier Kramer, COO at Genexis.
