

Robin Page

Head of Global Design & UX

Robin joined Volvo Cars in 2013 and has spearheaded our simple and pure yet premium Scandinavian design aesthetic. He led our interior design team in the creation of our 90 and 60 Series models, as well as the XC40. In 2017, he became head of design and has overseen Volvo Cars design operations since. During his tenure, Robin has been responsible for the 360c concept car, a variety of updates to the full Volvo range and our fully electric models. Before joining Volvo Cars, Robin designed for Rolls-Royce, Bugatti and Bentley Motors.
