

T. JON MAYER

Head of Exterior Design

T. Jon, a native of the United States, is an eleven-year company veteran and has been instrumental in the development of Volvo Cars' design language over the past decade. Since 2021 he is head of our exterior design team. In this role he led the exterior development of Concept Recharge setting a manifesto for our future line up. Among other projects, he was the lead exterior designer for the 2019 Volvo S60, V60 and V60 Cross Country models.

Prior to his current role he was head of design at the Volvo Design & Concept Center in Camarillo, California from mid-2017 until 2020. The Camarillo studio grew considerably under his leadership and increased its role within the company's global design operations by developing and advancing strategic and production design ideas from a uniquely US perspective.

T. Jon Mayer joined Volvo Cars in 2011, as a member of the exterior design team in Gothenburg, Sweden. In 2013 he was the lead exterior designer of the Concept Coupe, Concept XC Coupe and Concept Estate, a trio of concept cars that demonstrated the company's new design language and the capabilities of its SPA scalable product architecture.

T. Jon graduated with honors from Carnegie Mellon University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Industrial Design and a Minor in Business Administration. He then attended the Art Center College of Design and graduated with honors with a Bachelor of Science in Transportation Design.
