

OLIVIER LOEDEL

Head of Electrification Ecosystem

Olivier joined Volvo Cars in 2017 as director for strategic projects in our global retail team. Since 2020, he is our global head of electrification ecosystem. Together with his team, he's driving our business transformation to accelerate the shift towards sustainable mobility.

Olivier has extensive experience from leading positions in automotive at companies like Ford, BMW and Tesla. He holds a master's degree in international business management and a bachelor's degree in international marketing.