Goldsky Appoints Gabriella Hammarskjöld as Environmental Manager of Goldsky Sweden AB

VANCOUVER, Canada, July 9, 2026 — Goldsky Resources Corp (TSX-V: GSKR, FNSE: GSKR SDB, OTCQX: GSKRF, FRA: HEGO) ("Goldsky Resources" or the "Company") is pleased to announce that as part of the next stage of growth, it has appointed Gabriella Hammarskjöld as Environmental Manager of Goldsky Sweden AB, effective September 1, 2026.

Gabriella brings more than 24 years of Swedish environmental and permitting experience across mining, infrastructure, energy and major industrial developments. Her career includes senior positions with Sweco, Nordkalk, Vattenfall, SKB, Sida and the Swedish Environmental Protection Agency (Sw. Naturvårdsverket). She has led complex environmental permitting, Environmental Impact Assessments, regulatory engagement and stakeholder consultation processes throughout Sweden.

Her extensive experience in mining permitting, groundwater and surface water protection, Natura 2000, environmental court proceedings and collaboration with SGU, County Administrative Boards and municipalities will significantly strengthen our capability as the Company advances Barsele.

Noora Ahola, the Managing Director Nordics comments: "Gabriella is one of Sweden's most experienced environmental permitting professionals. Her appointment reflects our commitment to building an exceptional Nordic team capable of responsibly advancing projects of national significance. Attracting professionals of Gabriella's calibre is a strong endorsement of both our projects and our long-term vision."

Following the consolidation of 100% ownership of Barsele, Goldsky has entered a new phase focused on disciplined project advancement. Alongside ongoing environmental and technical studies and planning, the Company is investing in the people, systems and especially environmental capability required to develop high-quality Nordic mining projects responsibly. Additional technical appointments are expected during 2026 as Goldsky continues building a best-in-class project development team.
